Explain the significance of these foods having links with other religions. How may it make a difference to Christians that many of these foods have links with other religions? There is no clear right or wrong answer, but choices and opinions must be explained. Suggestions include: No, because many types of Christians celebrate in different ways, but all believe Jesus fulfils these beliefs. No, because as seen in table they share the same themes/meanings anyway.

Activity 2: From Judaism to Jesus

The information on the table below will help with key knowledge and development tasks

	Bread and wine	Lamb	Eggs
Judaism	Manna/food from Heaven shows Salvation from God	Sacrifice of lamb as commitment to God and used for Passover	New Life of freedom; Salvation
	Shabbat	Passover
Easter	Commitment in Jesus	Sacrifice for sins/ Salvation	Resurrection , second chance/life

Development

3. Describe how this reflects the Christian belief that Jesus is this promised Messiah.

Suggestions include: feeling closer to Jesus as eating the same foods; that 'Testament' means promise and Christians believe the New Testament is fulfilling the Old Testament/promise of God to Jewish people to send salvation, the Messiah, and that Jesus is the Messiah that was promised in Old Testament.

Activity 3: Communion with Jesus

1. Give reasons for the different names used for this ceremony. Different names include Mass (Roman Catholic), or Eucharist (for the wafer).
2. Explain how this sacrament shows the following Christian beliefs about Jesus:

Sacrifice Salvation Suffering New Life

The bread/wafer represents body of Jesus, who Christians believe sacrificed himself by suffering crucifixion to be their salvation, and give them new life.

3. How might celebrating this sacrament of communion help Christians feel closer to Jesus and their community? Could include how it might make them feel closer to Jesus by re-enactment, or to help bond with the community; or some believe that they may receive the spirit of Jesus through communion.
