

ASQ-3 and the 2-year review for London

23r March 2015

The role of ASQ-3

- Part of the health element of IRs
- Administered and managed by health visiting
- Completed by parents
- Dual purpose:
- 1) To generate data for a population measure of child development at age two
- 2) Helps to identify children's strengths and areas of need
- A starting point for discussion at HCP 2 year review/Integrated Review

Roll-out of ASQ-3

- From April 2015 health visiting teams will start using the Ages & Stages Questionnaires(ASQ-3™) as part of two year health reviews/integrated reviews
- E-learning is available now (with open access route)
- ASQ-3™ British English adaptation distributed on CD-ROM to HV providers
- Health visiting teams will collect data – coverage from April 2015 and ASQ scores from October 2015
- ASQ:SE to be incorporated at later stage

Benefits of population measure

- Build a broad picture of child development at age 2-2½
- Assess impact of services for 0-2s
- Inform future service provision
- Help track future outcomes

London Region ASQ Training

- Train-the-Champion training programmes to support the London-wide implementation of ASQ and the two-year integrated review in accordance with DH and DoE recommendations - with representation from:
 - 19 London HV Providers (2 people max per organisation)
 - 9 Universities training London health visitors
 - 3 London HV training hubs
- ASQ-3 and ASQ-SE training will be delivered by Brookes Publishing US trainer Hollie Hix-Small
- Integrated two-year review training based on a successful collaborative implementation by HV Provider: Homerton with Local Borough: Hackney
- London HV training hubs to play a major role in sustaining the level of ASQ expertise and knowledge with HV providers

Implementation Support

- DH-funded CD-ROM containing ASQ British English materials being sent to each health visiting provider in London (one for each London Borough)
- London-wide implementation support team including project manager (in place) and senior health visitor with ASQ-3 expert knowledge
 - Senior HV interviews taking place on Monday 12th January with an immediate start date for successful candidate
- Purchase of ASQ-3 review meeting play bags for each London HV provider
- London Local Authority ASQ-3 and integrated two-year review workshops scheduled in March 2015 followed by monthly Public Health/NHS England collaborative meetings to assist understanding of Early Years operating pressures and the transitioning of HV commissioning
