Introduction

Welcome to Hackney's training brochure for 2024-25. We hope you will find this a useful synopsis of all the training opportunities at Hackney; further information on each course is available on our website.

We've drawn together opportunities from different departments so that schools can use this as a single resource for programmes included with the CPD packages in addition to free training, bespoke training, and all the Conferences, Symposiums and Forums. There's so much on offer and we hope this is a helpful overview.

By working with us and our partners, there are a number of ways you can support your staff and Governors in their roles.

- Core training (access all the courses with a CPD Package, or purchase individually)
- On demand training for Governors
- Conferences and symposiums
- Bespoke training
- National qualifications (Apprenticeships and NPQs)

This year we are refreshing and enriching our Network offer, celebrating and supporting the exchange of professional knowledge within Hackney. There are more opportunities for colleagues to collaborate and learn from each other, led by experienced facilitators and inspired by expert key speakers. Alongside our core offer, there is the option to partake in bespoke training that caters specifically to the needs of your school. Our experienced team is on hand to design tailored training, whether it's a course adjustment or a new programme. We offer personalised CPD planning for your school, addressing specific staff requirements and challenges.

The calendar of the core offer will be published after May half term 2024, and courses will be available to book online from August 2024.

As part of our ongoing commitment to working in partnership with Hackney schools and celebrating the wealth of expertise within our borough, we continue to collaborate with schools to develop and deliver many of our training programmes. This not only enriches professional development opportunities but also strengthens the educational ecosystem within Hackney. If you would like to explore a partnership with us to share your school's CPD as part of this offer, or develop a new programme with us, then please get in touch with a member of the CPD team.

How to purchase a package

Acquiring a CPD package is easily accessible through our BookingLive booking portal. Upon purchase, your account will automatically be updated enabling you to register for courses at the applicable discounted rates.

Post-16 packages can be purchased via the S4S website www.hackneyservicesforschools.co.uk/categories/post-16-education

BookingLive

All bookings for our CPD courses must be made online via our booking portal: hackneyeducation.bookinglive.com

Please always log in by clicking the "My Account" link on the top right hand side of the page.

Please ensure that the bursar of your school's account (normally the School Business Manager or a member of their team) has linked your account to your organisation so that the correct prices are attached to your booking. Any new member of staff must be added in this way.

For Post-16 bookings, please email: post16education@hackney.gov.uk

New customers

Hackney Education welcomes orders from settings within the London Borough of Hackney and beyond.

If you are a Hackney or Non-Hackney Setting and wish to book onto our courses, contact the Services for Schools team on 020 8820 7566 to arrange for an account to be set up, or email s4s@hackney.gov.uk

For Childminders new to Early Years training, there is no requirement to set up an account prior to placing a booking. Please select the required course(s) and proceed through the checkout process (payment is required by card only).

Hackney does Action Research!

Hackney extends a warm invitation to Middle Leaders from all phases to participate in our inaugural Action Research cohort, set to commence in Autumn 2024. By actively engaging in this research initiative, participants will have the opportunity to deepen their understanding of educational practices, foster critical thinking skills, and cultivate evidence-based approaches to enhance outcomes for children and young people in our borough.

Through this collaborative endeavour, Middle Leaders will embark on a reflective journey, working together to identify and investigate a shared research question, with regular tailored support from experienced leaders. The action research process will empower individuals to delve into current practices, challenge conventional wisdom, and pioneer innovative solutions tailored to the unique needs of our community.

As part of this cohort, participants will have the platform to exchange ideas, share insights, and leverage collective expertise to drive meaningful change. By establishing a research question that scrutinises, questions, and refines existing practices, Middle Leaders will play a pivotal role in shaping the future of education in Hackney.

Digital Technology and AI

In response to the increasing demand for expertise in utilising computing systems and AI both within and beyond educational settings, the below programmes are designed to equip school staff with the knowledge and tools necessary to thrive in the digital age.

New Wave Federation will be running a hands-on opportunity for colleagues to explore theory, best practice and approaches for using technology across the curriculum with a keen focus on real improvement and impact. This includes seeing tech in action: the opportunity to observe technology being used in the classroom across Shacklewell Primary School.

The AI Networks will serve as collaborative platforms for sharing insights, strategies, and best practices, fostering a community dedicated to leveraging technology effectively in education.

Please also see our Computing subject networks on page 9 to enhance Computing subject knowledge and pedagogy.

Sustainability Network

This network offers support to schools at every stage of their sustainability journey, aiding in fulfilling responsibilities like appointing a sustainability lead and implementing an action plan. Work with schools across the borough to integrate sustainability into your school's culture. Learn about the Harmony Project's sustainability principles and stay updated on DfE policy changes and the new Hackney Sustainability Curriculum initiative.

This group will share ideas and be inspired by case studies of schools in Hackney and around the country; resources will be available from the National Education Nature Park, the Harmony Project and the Count Your Carbon free tool, plus lots more.

Assessment Network

The Hackney Assessment Network is a group of school leaders responsible for assessment who meet to share best practice and explore current research in assessment. The network aims to support leaders in the development and evaluation of their assessment strategies, and to showcase local best practice. Focus is also given to exploring developments within statutory assessment and to inform leaders about key publications, research, and guidance from the DfE and OFSTED, as well as leading research organisations.

themes, including Kate Jones, Orlene Badu, Jenny Short, Adam Boxer, Nick Hart, Margaret Mulholland and Daisy Christodoulou. Since its inception by Jason Marantz, the network has developed into a fantastic opportunity for leaders to exchange knowledge and offer guidance to one another, working under the ethos that we learn best by collaborating with others.

Over the past few years, the network has welcomed guest speakers and experts across a range of different assessment

Professional Development (PD) Lead Network

According to the Education Endowment Fund (EEF), there is "a growing consensus that promoting effective professional development (PD) plays a crucial role in improving classroom practice and pupil outcomes". Working with the East London Research School (ELRS), delegates will create a PD plan, following the EEF's evidence base on implementation and effective PD.

You will leave this programme with a greater focus on the mechanisms of effective PD and a carefully designed implementation plan that can be reviewed by ELRS.

Networks

Subject Networks

Networks have several purposes: they bring subject specialists together to exchange expertise and perspectives, develop shared approaches to common challenges and to look at local and national issues. Schools also see the subject networks as part of our CPD provision. To this end, subject Networks serve as a valuable component of our local offer.

Regular, planned opportunities for subject specialists to meet allow expertise to be developed and best practice to be shared. These networks aim to stay current, relevant, and draw upon the wealth of expertise within our borough's schools.

Agendas are prepared with consideration to milestones in the academic year and relevant priorities, e.g. anti-racism, mental health and wellbeing, SEND, and much more.

Networks run once per term and are held after school. Each network is £90+VAT or included within a package.

This excludes Music, which is funded by the Music Hub Grant.

The Foundations of Strong Governance

Never has there been a greater need for strong and effective governance across a richly mixed economy of schools – either stand alone or in varying forms of partnership, including Federations and Multi Academy Trusts.

Governance is becoming more complex, requiring greater accountability of educational standards and management of key risks. As such, our governance training programme draws on the insights and ideas that have emerged, and focuses on key issues, including: ensuring safety and wellbeing; providing high quality education; tackling inequality matters.

Our sessions are open to any Governor or aspiring Governor, School Leader, School Business Manager, and school clerk. Training sessions are categorised appropriately within this brochure.

Equity and Inclusion

Hackney is one of the most richly diverse boroughs in London. It is a melting pot of religious and cultural beliefs, with individuals representing each of the characteristics protected by the Equality Act. Nevertheless, from wide ranging evidence, we know that people in our community, including children and families in our schools and settings, experience inequality. We want all children and young people in Hackney's schools and settings to feel a sense of belonging.

We're pleased to announce the Charter for Race and SEND for Schools, a tool aligning with school development plans. Hackney Education acknowledges the curriculum's role in empowering all children and offers the Hackney Diverse Curriculum online, with ongoing updates planned for the coming year.

Hackney's Anti-Racism in Education is available as a bespoke offer for schools (page 28).

Parental engagement

We want all parents and carers to feel supported, engaged, and valued in Hackney. Through meaningful engagement, such as through events, consultation and specialised training for school staff and governors, we will ensure that Hackney's parents and carers feel that their views are heard.

Our training helps schools and settings to understand parents and carers more closely, and develop innovative ways to connect with them.

Safeguarding

Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families has a role to play in safeguarding children. School and college staff, with their ability to detect concerns early, are pivotal in preventing issues from worsening. Collaborating with social care, police, health services, and others, they contribute to the broader safeguarding network.

The Safeguarding In Education Team provides essential training for Designated Safeguarding Leads (DSLs) across various educational settings. This training, aligned with statutory guidance and local policies, covers identifying harm, referral processes, managing allegations against staff, and overall strategies for safeguarding and promoting children's welfare.

Wellbeing and Mental Health in Schools (WAMHS)

This programme is only available to Hackney Schools

The Wellbeing and Mental Health in Schools (WAMHS) project is a partnership between the CAMHS Alliance, Hackney Education and schools, with support from the Children and Young People's Integrated Commissioning work stream in City and Hackney. It aims to enhance the ability of schools to support young people's mental health.

The training programme accompanying the project explores wellbeing, mental health, risk factors, attachment theory, trauma-informed practice, and behaviour as communication.

This equips school staff to create nurturing environments for learning and growth.

Tailored sessions that can be accessed by different members of staff based on the level of training cover topics like self-harm, anxiety, low mood, and supporting students with eating difficulties. The initiative fosters collaboration among colleagues and offers workshops, conferences, and specialised training.

Take a look at WAMHS's core offer below. For bespoke training, please visit page 29.

Special Educational Needs and Disabilities

On top of the statutory support that Hackney Education provides to the borough's schools, Hackney also offers specialised professional training tailored to meet the unique challenges of supporting learners with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND). With a focus on inclusivity, innovation, and practical application, our programmes empower educators to create supportive environments and foster optimal outcomes for SEND pupils.

Adaptive Teaching and the Graduated Response

In Hackney's current context of rising SEND demands, supporting school staff with Adaptive Teaching strategies and understanding Graduated Response is crucial. The Early Career Framework describes adaptive teaching as providing the "opportunity for all pupils to experience success, by adapting lessons, whilst maintaining high expectations for all, so that all pupils have the opportunity to meet expectations."

Adaptive teaching strategies include: pre-teaching vocabulary; reteaching to small groups; using scaffolds and checking understanding using show me resources. Effective adaptive teaching can support a robust Graduated Response, prioritising impactful early intervention and specialist support for complex needs. Differentiated curriculum and tailored learning activities remain essential for some SEND pupils, alongside a school provision map for targeted intervention, facilitating progress towards priority SEND goals and integration into mainstream offerings. Training that enables schools to embed their Graduated Response is offered through Hackney's Integrated SEND services (page 27).

Assessment and Moderation

In Hackney, assessment and moderation for primary and early years colleagues are meticulously crafted to support the delivery of the local authority's statutory role and responsibilities associated with the Key Stage 2 statutory assessment. Opportunities for support, training and teacher collaboration in assessment and moderation procedures are provided throughout the academic year to ensure a consistent approach.

Included in the core offer for Primary settings is access to Pobble Moderation tools (originally £250 value).

Modern Foreign Languages (MFL)

Hola! Bienvenido a Spanish in Hackney

Hackney mandates Spanish teaching in all its primary and secondary schools, ensuring continuity. External experts guide instruction, fostering collaboration among schools. Regular training and language classes are offered, including funded courses in Spain. A Transition Toolkit supports knowledge transfer from primary to secondary schools.

Hackney's MFL consultants offer various opportunities for Spanish language and cultural immersion, including trips during Hispanic Week for film, gallery visits, and culinary exploration. There will also be opportunities to meet with the Civil Service Language Group and work with universities. Many of these opportunities can be provided to schools at no additional cost.

Classroom Assistance

Support staff play a vital role in the classroom environment, providing invaluable assistance to teachers and contributing to the overall success of students' learning experiences. We offer diverse opportunities for support staff to enhance their skills and advance their careers. Our Higher-Level Teaching Assistant (HLTA) certification programme equips individuals with the necessary knowledge and expertise to take on increased responsibilities within the classroom. Through comprehensive training, TAs can also elevate their role to become primary leaders in crucial areas such as reading and communication skills in the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS).

Department for Education (DfE) Funded Subject Hubs

In 2018, the Department for Education launched subject hubs in schools nationwide, providing fully or partly funded support to enhance teaching expertise in specific subjects. Available to all state-funded schools, colleges, special schools, and alternative provision settings in England, with primary schools receiving English Hub support.

We are very proud to have 3 subject hubs working in Hackney to support the borough's schools. More information about our music hub can be found on page 22.

New Wave English Hub at Grazebrook Primary School

The New Wave English Hub is a team of Literacy Specialists, composed of experienced classroom practitioners and school leaders. The purpose of the English Hub is to offer a range of free school to school support for all maintained primary schools.

Our aim is to support schools to ensure that every child becomes a proficient, confident readers by providing:

- partnerships and collaboration with school leaders,
- phonics and early reading support, with fidelity to the school's chosen programme;
- early language skills acquisition;
- help to establish a positive Reading for Pleasure culture;
- early reading audits;
- funding (includes grants from £500 to £6000) which can be used for phonics training, decodable books and other resources aligned to the school's chosen, accredited SSP;
- stand alone webinars and short courses;
- a range of in-person conferences that equip primary school leaders with the knowledge and strategies to develop and sustain a positive reading culture.

Music

Hackney Music Service (HMS) is the lead partner in the Hackney Music Service Network, the Music Education Hub for the borough. HMS provides inspirational opportunities to schools, children, young people and their teachers for lifelong learning through high quality, motivational, sustained and progressive musical experiences with embedded CPD.

Our goal is for Hackney's music provision to be acknowledged for its significant support of young people's cultural, social, and educational development, which is inherent in the arts. Additionally, its contribution to the development of transferable skills like communication, self-expression, problem-solving, creative thinking, team building, and awareness of individual and collective responsibility are qualities that HMS pioneers.

As the lead partner in Hackney's local music education hub, HMS works with a diverse range of local and national Cultural Partners, who combine to form the Hackney Music Network. Many of our partners have dedicated CPD offers and/or offer performance events and workshops with embedded CPD.

Partners with CPD offers include:

- London Symphony Orchestra
- Sound Connections
- Music Mark
- A New Direction
- Hackney Empire
- Barbican Creative Learning
- BBC / East Bank (QEOP)
- VOCES8 Foundation
- HMDT Music
- One Drum Foundation

Careers Collaborative

The Careers Collaborative, led by Hackney Education, ensures statutory obligations regarding careers education are fulfilled. Members emphasise the importance of quality guidance for students' career decisions, as employers value the skills gained in school for recruitment. The team keeps members informed on policy changes and provides tailored support for meeting statutory duties and Gatsby benchmarks, aiding schools in preparing for inspections.

Regular updates on opportunities and apprenticeships ensure effective provision, leading to improved student progression. Specialised support for vulnerable groups and workshops for university applications aim to broaden opportunities and enhance decision-making, fostering improved outcomes for all students.

Network Meetings

Members access six annual network meetings for sharing best practices, networking, updates on national and local careers policies, presentations on quality apprenticeships and local opportunities.

Individual Contact Meetings

Members can join termly meetings to discuss strategic guidance, initiatives, concerns, or share knowledge, with Head Teachers welcome to participate if needed.

Project Officer Support

We research, source, and coordinate collaborative activities like events and resources, organise meetings, address inquiries, and support members in planning student career activities.

Resources

Our resources update staff on local opportunities, helping communicate with students and parents about careers. This includes bulletins and updates to support diverse student needs.

Bespoke Events

The Project Officer and partners plan member events including a Choices Careers Fare in December for Year 10/11 students, Inspiring Young People for Year 9 & 10 students, and Access to Healthcare featuring talks by medical professionals.

Staff CPD

Termly CPD for careers staff and workshops for staff working in member institutions.

Bespoke Workshops and Support

Can offer workshops for UCAS personal statement and reference writing, personal statement checking and interview support.

The Journey to Anti-Racism in Education

This training aims to deepen awareness of racism in society and the effects on children and staff in our Hackney education system. It will prompt staff, at every level, to reflect on their practice.

At various stages of this training, we will challenge our assumptions, biases and responses to different scenarios within a school context, whilst exploring the effects on children and staff. We will also improve our knowledge and understanding of active anti-racism and leave you with some tools and reading to create, develop and sustain a culture and conditions for anti-racist change across our schools.

This session requires us to be curious, mindful, sensitive and recognise our differences and talk about them. By equipping staff with the tools and knowledge to actively combat racism, we are not only creating a safer space for marginalised groups but also empowering individuals to be agents of change within their schools and communities.

Diversity and inclusion should be celebrated and embraced, and to see efforts being made to cultivate a culture that reflects these values, will enhance a sense of belonging for all. Above all, this training reminds us of the overwhelming benefits of diversity and inclusion and the need to 'all do the work', to create the ripples of change within a system that can sometimes be unkind and systemically unfair to different groups of people.

Virtual School

The Virtual School's programme ensures optimal educational outcomes for Looked After Children (LAC), Care Leavers, young people in the youth justice system, adopted children, and those with social workers.

Hackney's Virtual School initiative, in addition to supporting young people through their academic journey and transition into further education, employment, or training, incorporates training to become attachment-aware and trauma-informed. This training delves into how children's brain development is influenced by relationships, the ramifications of unregulated stress on brain development and function, and strategies to promote healthy brain development.

Enrichment Offer for NCE apprentices

In collaboration with Hackney Education, Captiva Learning and the National College of Education are offering apprentices enrolled in their programmes scheduled enrichment sessions, seamlessly integrated into the apprenticeship curriculum. These sessions are accessible to apprentices at all levels, catering to diverse needs.

Whether you're an entry-level 3 apprentice seeking peer support or a level 7 apprentice eager to enhance off-the-job evidence by leading or co-presenting workshops, there's something for everyone. These carefully chosen topics bolster both your professional growth and personal development, addressing often neglected aspects of leadership training.

Led by expert tutors, these virtual sessions foster engaging discussions on workplace navigation within a secure environment. Expect informal dialogues with peers, sharing experiences and perspectives, occasionally featuring guest speakers from the City of London or our network to enrich the discourse further.

Early Career Teachers

Early Career Teachers are entitled to a two year package of professional development and mentoring based on the Early Career Framework (ECF).

Schools receive additional funding in the second year to support a 5% timetable reduction for ECTs and continued mentoring in year two. There are different options for schools to deliver the Early Career Framework and more details can be found here. New teachers continue to be assessed against the Teachers' Standards and Appropriate Bodies continue to ensure Early Career Teachers receive their statutory entitlements and will make the final decision as to whether that teacher has met the Teachers' Standards.

Hackney's local Teaching School Hub is East London Teaching School Hub; they offer the UCL Institute of Education's ECF Programme.

The ECF Programme includes:

- Fully funded, research led, professional learning for Early Careers Teachers and their Mentors
- The programme is a combination of face to face and online learning delivered by professionals who understand the context of local schools
- Schools accessing our ECF Programme are entitled to additional funding for mentor training (equivalent to 36 hours of backfill time over two years per mentor) in addition to the statutory funding for ECT and mentor off-timetable time and free training and support.
